download for free from the link at the bottom of this page. Advanced Text Encrypter Details: Advanced Text Encrypter is a simple to use application that enables you to encode/decode pieces of text, thus ensuring their safety. The software uses advanced algorithms and a user-provided secret key word/phrase in order to encrypt a message, paragraph or piece of text. The software can also decode previously encrypted text. Secure your private memos, messages, writing Advanced Text Encrypter brings a convenient and trustworthy method for protecting the privacy of text messages. The software does not allow you to set passwords for the files that contain the information, instead to encrypt the data itself. Thus, you may apply advanced protection algorithms that convert the words into character strings. The process of encoding starts with a secret key, which is a user-provided word/character sequence. This is also the key used to deciphering the text, in the same application that encoded it. The software uses an advanced encryption system, based on a two-layer encoding process. The first key is embedded in the program's code, while the second is the custom phrase provided by the user, which is automatically converted to SHA256 hash before usage. These two elements compose the final AES encryption algorithm that the software applies to the text. Reversing the encryption: deciphering the codes Advanced Text Encrypter can also decode the text you previously encrypted, by applying the process in reverse. You are required, of course, to provide the secret key, without which the process is invalid. Simply paste in the character sequence, enter the key and the software can decode it for you. The information regarding capitalized letters however is not maintained. The software supports pasting the text from clipboard, in both cases: encryption or decryption. It cannot automatically save it to a text file or import such a document in order to extract the information from it. Moreover, keyboard shortcuts for selecting the entire encrypted text are disabled. Reliable tool for encoding messages Whether you wish to encode messages, simple login credentials or other pieces of text, Advanced Text Encrypter

What's New in the?

Advanced Text Encrypter is a software that allows you to protect a piece of text from unauthorized access. The application does not provide a password for the file where the information is stored, instead it encrypts the text. In order to decode the message, you have to provide a secret key or phrase and the software will generate a new file with the decrypted message. The software also supports pasting text from the clipboard. Advanced Text Encrypter Requirements: Advanced Text Encrypter is available for download on the official website. The program is free to use, does not require registration and supports both 32-bit and 64-bit Windows operating systems. A brief list of the program's system requirements includes: * Windows 7/8/10 * 1.0 GHz processor * 4 GB RAM * 110 MB disk space Advanced Text Encrypter will not work with memory cards used to store texts, passwords or other sensitive data, so it should be kept offline. You can improve the program's performance by deactivating active Internet connections. Advanced Text Encrypter Usage: Once installed and launched, Advanced Text Encrypter will not remain idle, as it will process the text you paste into it. The software will generate an input box where you are required to type the text that you wish to encrypt or decrypt. When you fill out the box, pressing the OK button will start the process. Once the task is completed, the software will display the decrypted information on your screen. You can simply exit the application by pressing the X button. Any changes made to the text will be lost and it will not be possible to decode the encrypted text. Advanced Text Encrypter can also automatically save the information to a file, so you do not have to press an additional button for that. Moreover, Advanced Text Encrypter allows you to protect multiple files at the same time. The software is currently supported on Windows 7, Windows 8 and Windows 10. Advanced Text Encrypter Features: Advanced Text Encrypter provides a convenient way to protect your personal messages or small bits of text, which you wish to keep confidential. The software also works on documents for mobile devices, as long as you have the Microsoft Office pre-installed. The software will automatically perform the encryption and decrypting task, so you do not have to rely on your own skills. Simply paste the text you wish to encode and the software will continue on its own. The program does not allow you to change the file format
